

15. Cf. R. L. Mortley, "The Greek Academy", in The Idea of a University: A Series of Nine Lectures, ed. B. F. Harris, Macquarie University, [1983], pp. 21-22.
 16. These words are used by L. O. Frappell in "The Rise of the Professor; the Victorian University in Transition", ibid., p. 94.
 17. Op.cit., pp. 59, 60, 61.
 18. The Humanities in American Life, University of California Press, Berkeley and Los Angeles, 1980, pp. 8-9. The connection between "an appropriate education in science" and "a secure future for all Australians" can be inferred from the issues paper Science for Everybody which, with a covering letter from the Minister, was last year distributed to many thousands of individuals and organisations. Presumably the Academy would welcome, and be prepared to advise on, a similar effort by the Curriculum Development Centre on behalf of the humanities.
 19. Boswell's Life of Johnson, ed. G. B. Hill, rev. L. F. Powell, Clarendon Press, Oxford, 1934-50, vol. 4, pp. 427-8.
 20. "Speaking for the Humanities", p. A16.
-